

People v. O'Donnell, No. 00PDJ066, 4/05/01. Attorney Regulation.

The Presiding Disciplinary Judge accepted the parties' Conditional Admission of Misconduct and suspended Respondent, Declan J. O'Donnell, from the practice of law for a period of six months with the full period of suspension stayed subject to certain conditions. Respondent violated Colo. RPC 3.4(c) by knowingly disobeying a court order by failing to timely pay child support arrearages. Respondent is proceeding in the child support action to modify the amount of arrearages due and is negotiating a payment plan. Respondent was ordered to pay the costs of the proceeding.